Fifth Sunday of Easter (Year B)

Gospel: John 15:1-8

In the Gospel reading we hear how Jesus is the vine, and how he gives life to us, his branches. Let's think a bit about what that means today. Jesus is teaching his disciples. He calls himself the "true vine". Do you know what a vine is? What grows on a vine? Grapes grow on vines. Do you like grapes? What other fruit do you like? Jesus called us his branches because he supports us, like a tree supports its branches. He wants us to bear him fruit. What do you think this means? Do you think he wants us to grow grapes? What Jesus means is that he wants us to follow his teachings, and love our neighbour. By doing this it will be like bearing fruit for his vine, because we will be sharing his love with others. Many children around the world have to leave their homes because of fighting, or because of droughts or floods. Halima is eight. She and her family had to leave their country, because of fighting. They are now in a refugee camp in Bangladesh. They do not have a good diet. They have been surviving on just rice and potatoes. How would you feel if you only had rice and potatoes to eat? Ruth is four. Drought and fighting have forced many people to leave South Sudan. Ruth's family now live in a refugee camp in Uganda. Supporting charities and friends, gave seeds and tools to Ruth's father. He grew vegetables and sold some to buy new sandals for his children and fish for a healthier diet. How would you feel if you had to leave your home? This summer lots of children are walking to show their support for people who have had to leave their country to find food and a home, as part of the Share the Journey campaign. All the miles that they walk will be added together, and the hope is that the final number will be 24,900 miles – which is the distance around the world! These children are bearing the fruit of Jesus by showing love to their neighbours who need to rebuild and start again. There are many ways that we can show our love for our neighbour both here and around the world. Can you think of some more? How will you show your love for your neighbours both here and around the world. so that you will be like the branches on the vine?

Please note that all attendance awards are for the previous week.
